

Book 10 in the Kansas City Heat series When two KCPD detectives go undercover to catch a band of drug dealers, they reel in more than they were expecting. Detective Gene Page remembers all too well the recent deaths caused by the Insanity drug. His task force was close to apprehending one of the major pushers in the area, but had to pull back when another detective's son was threatened. Now Page is back on the case, working undercover and looking to bring down the local members of the notorious Montoya drug cartel. Sexy Rastafarian drug dealer Suede Santana is high on his list of people to watch. Page could watch the handsome hunk all day, in fact, but knows he can never touch. When Suede is finally apprehended, he has a story of his own to tell, and the KCPD is forced to rethink their tactics. Diego Montoya is the head man in charge and they focus their efforts on bringing him down. But does the undercover task force have a chance of succeeding when they find out Montoya has disappeared without a trace? About Jenna Byrnes Jenna Byrnes could use more cabinet space and more hours in a day. Shed fill the kitchen with gadgets her husband purchases off TV and let him cook for her to his hearts content. Shed breeze through the days adding hours of sleep, and more time for writing the hot, erotic romance she loves to read. Jenna thinks everyone deserves a happy ending, and loves to provide as many of those as possible to her gay, lesbian and hetero characters. Her favourite quote, from a pro-gay billboard, is Be careful who you hate. It may be someone you love.
